THEO. H. DAVIES' ABLE ADDRESS.

Delivered Before the Inter Colonial Convention in Ottawa.

CABLE AND STEAM IN THE PACIFIC

Hawaii Will Cultivate Most Cordial Relations With Her Great Neighbors.
A Description of Necker Island.
Better Steamers Needed in Pacific.

The following address was delivered before the International Convention held at Ottawa, Dominion of Canada, the last of June, 1894, by Mr. Theo. H. Davies, the

THEO. H. DAVIES.

delegate of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce, to said convention.
The Hon. Mackenzie Bowell when passing through Honolulu last year addressed the members of the Chamber of Commerce and at that time extended to the chamber an invitation to be represented at the proposed convention to be held at Ottawa, which invitation was accepted and Mr. Davies appointed:
MR. PRESIDENT, MY LORD JERSEY
AND GENTLEMEN;

In response to your invitation I have the honor to present the following paper upon the subject of cable and steam communication in the Pacific:

I am confident that whatever government may be in power, Hawaii may be relied upon in the future as in the past to legislate intelligently and definitely for the promotion of the interests of commerce, and in a liberal and broad manner.

It has been, and is, the earnest wish of the governing as well as of the business classes to bring Hawaii into the circle of Pacific Ocean traffic, and to cultivate the most cordial relations with her great neighbors to the north,
south, east and west.

Hawaii desires not only their trade,
but the respect and confidence of those neighbors.

In confirmation of this assurance, I may quote the following lines, which the present Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Provisional Government of Hawaii addressed to my firm at Honolulu, under date of the 1st of June.

He says: "In regard to the matter of port charges this government is disposed to consider favorably a proposition working towards the reduction or total abolition of these charges in relation to your steamships; but would prefer to treat this matter in connection with the subject of the carriage of the mails. The good-will of the government to your line has already been made manifest." The Minister goes on to say:

"In regard to a trans-Pacific cable,
negotiations are on foot of a confidential nature respecting the utilization of Hawaiian territory for that purpose. At the present time the government is unable to say more than to express its great interest in the project of a cable, and its desire to ex-pedit it in every way in its power."

These words of the Minister are in entire accord with the tenor of the report of the Chamber of Commerce
upon the subject of steam and cable communication, a copy of which report was forwarded to Mr. Bowell and published in the report of his recent mission to Australia.

In matters of trade and commerce it has generally been found that what the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce has recommended, the government has endeavored to carry out by legislation. I will speak of the cable first.

The great aim of the commercial and of every other interest in Hawaii
is to induce the projectors to land within what is known as the Hawaiian group. This aim would hardly have been gratified by the landing of the cable at an uninhabited island nearly 500 miles away, and my personal belief is that the recent annexation of Necker Island by Hawaii was undertaken in order to induce the landing of the cable somewhere nearer the chain of Hawaiian communication.

I say this because I gather from the newspapers that the Hawaiian Government have in some way received the impression that there was an intention to carry the cable past Hawaii
without touching here.

I have no right, nor have I any intention to touch upon the points which might seem to have a political or an international character. I can only assure the convention that Hawaii is unanimously anxious to have this cable communication, and that she will be found prepared to negotiate in that frank and friendly spirit which I endeavored to indicate in my opening statement.

Leaving aside the questions of how to deal with the imperial control, or at least with the neutrality of the cable, I should feel it unnecessary to dwell upon the immense commercial value of a central telegraph office in the Pacific Ocean—if I had not found by years of experience the difficulty of making people understand that there was any Pacific Ocean—except in books about the habits and homes
of coral insects.

In 1893, 2000 passengers arrived in Hawaii; 2000 left Hawaii. 8000 arrived in transit, making 12,000 in all, excluding what are called emigrants.

In the same time 13 ships of war and 310 merchant vessels arrived in Honolulu. Not one of those 12,000 passengers, nor of the captains and officers of those 320 ships, spent a single dollar on a cable message—
simply because there was no cable.

I venture to assert that the revenue to be derived from the landing of a cable at Honolulu will greatly surprise those who estimate that the revenue will be derived from the population, or the area of that country. Hawaiians know that the fact of Honolulu being a cable center will bring a very considerable traffic to their port. They estimate that many more ships will come there for orders, and for charter when their owners know that they can be in telegraphic communication with themselves. Many ships now go to San Francisco for orders which will assuredly, in future, come to a port which is nearer the center, and where their crews cannot desert, and where the expenses are very much less.

The cable means very much for Hawaiian commerce; but it means much also for the owners of the cable.
I doubt whether any port in Australasia will contribute more towards their revenue than the same port of Honolulu.

Even now steamers call there regularly from China, Japan, Vancouver,
San Francisco, Sydney and Auckland;
but we look—even as you gentlemen
do, or you would not be here—to an immense development of that traffic.

It is impossible to believe that Honolulu will be left long without a cable, and the first cable to land there will have all the revenue to which I have referred.

It is hardly my province to detract from Necker or any other of the rocks that might be available, but I will read to you the official description which the Hawaiian Government has furnished to my firm, from the report of the Minister of the Interior, who recently took possession:

Memorandum Reported by Captain
King in Regard to Necker Island.
No water.
No trees.
No grass.
Thin soil in places with patches of weeds; no other vegetation.
To support life, supplies would have
to be brought to the island, including
water.

The station there would be similar
to that of a lighthouse.

No difficulty in landing at the north side in ordinary weather.

Landing is made by stepping on a ledge of a lava rock similar to the old Volcano landing on Keahou.

No landing on south side as cliffs are inaccessible.

Anchorage on north-west side good.
Anchored three quarters of a mile off shore in eighteen fathoms of water,
bottom of sand and shells, shelving toward shore. Captain King thinks a cable could be landed without great difficulty.

[Signed] F. M. HATCH.

"No water, no trees, no grass."
"To support life supplies would have
to be brought to the island, including
water."

"The station there would be similar
to that of a lighthouse."

This would not be the first time that life had to depend on the periodical supplies from Honolulu. For years
my firm had so to provision Starbuck
Island, Johnson's Island, Fanning's Island, Christmas Island, and other guano islands, and though we had no
misadventures we had constant anxiety.

On three occasions deplorable misadventures have occurred, and in the present year the German caretaker on Laysan Island was found dead in his cottage by a passing shipmaster. I suppose hermits could be found to occupy even such an isolated tower, but I venture to say that its isolation adds something to the argument which I have endeavored to advance in favor of a very urgent attempt to secure a landing within the circuit of the Hawaiian archipelago.

I will now turn to the question of steam communication, and in doing so there is less need of statistics.
I find that Mr. Bowell, in his report, has already presented the chief figures
of Hawaiian trade: Imports in 1892,
$7,439,000, of which United States
sent $5,294,000. Exports in 1893,
$10,818,000, of which United States
took $10,754,000.

Of that $10,818,000—$10,495,000 consisted of sugar and rice, which all went to the United States, by virtue of the Reciprocity Treaty.

But the statistics of export, and imports belong rather to the owners of the steamers, and the question of which this convention is to treat is, I suppose, the establishment of a line between Canada and Australia. I have had a good many years' experience in these steam enterprises, ever since Mr.
Hayden Heskia Hall first beguiled a number of passengers from Sydney to Honolulu and then transferred them to the wretched little steamer Idaho,
in which also I was unhappily a passenger.

I am confident that the trans Pacific trade would be more than doubled if the steamers that carry it were equipped and conducted as the Atlantic boats are. But there is more in-olved than the comfort or the number of passengers. These steamers open connection with new ports and districts, and that means a great impetus to the trans-Pacific lines. With a cable and an established steam line between Honolulu and Vancouver, a valuable trade is assured; not merely a diverted trade, but a trade that does not now exist—a trade that will be largely developed by your own cable—by the new enterprise which you have come here to discuss.

I suppose the cattle and sheep owners of Hawaii would echo that Canadian objection which followed Mr.
Thynne's proposed shipments of Australian meats. But undoubtedly the system of cold storage will be introduced into Honolulu, and with those powers of consumption with which we astonish all visitors, we shall open a market for large shipments of meats,
poultry and fruits.

I shall be glad to answer any questions which the conference may desire to put to me.

ELEVENTH OF JUNE RACES.

The List of Entries Insures a Good
Day's Sport.

Amarino, Senator Stanford, Lord Brock
and Duke Spencer Will Run.
The Bicycle Races.

The Hawaiian Jockey Club will hold a special meeting this evening to make final arrangements for the races to be held on next Tuesday.
Everything is going on nicely, and the 1895 meeting promises to be the most successful ever held under the auspices of the club. Much credit is due to S. G. Wilder, the efficient secretary; he has worked early and late to make the races a success.

The entries closed yesterday afternoon, and the number of horses that will take part proves that there is a revival in track sports in this city. The following horses have been entered:

Half-mile Dash—Duke Spencer, Autonomy, Magnet, Miniola.
Trotting and Pacing Race, to harness—Burt Lee, Fred Mac, Billy Button.

Running Race, 3-mile dash—
Billy C., Antidote, Kahuku Boy.

Running Race, 1 mile dash—
Lord Brock, Senator Stanford,
Duke Spencer, Amarino.

Trotting and Pacing, to harness,
mile heats, 3 in 5—Silky, Barney, Creole.

Pony Race, 1 mile dash—Little Billy, Queen, Trilby, Elias, Mascot.

Running Race, 1 mile dash—
Billy C., Magnet.

2:50 class, mile heats, 2 in 3—
Little John, Billy Button, Remorse, Daylight, Billy W., McSnitz.

Running Race, 1 1/4 mile dash—
Lord Brock, Senator Stanford,
Duke Spencer, Amarino.

W. Chapman, Henry Giles, Geo.
Angus, H. E. Walker, N. Halstead
will take part in the first bicycle race. The same riders, with the addition of Ruby Dexter, J. Silva and "Jack" Atkinson, will take part in the second race also.

The following executive officers
have been chosen:

Starter—C. B. Wilson.

Judges—Seely Shaw, John Dow-sett and Captain Tripp.

Saddling Paddock—R. I. Green,
and James Merseberg.

The time-keepers have not been selected.

PROPOSED PACIFIC CABLE.

Mr. Coote Will Ask the Government for Assistance.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Hon. Audley Coote, who leaves for Australia on the Mariposa, will return to Honolulu again in September on his way to Washington. He goes to the American Capital in the interest of the proposed cable enterprise. He will ask Congress to aid the venture. It is understood that he will make similar advances this morning to the Hawaiian Government.

Mr. Coote feels confident that both Governments will assist his company and expects to have cable in working order before eight-teen months have passed. He says that he will make Honolulu
the central cable station of the Pacific. The line is to be built from Sydney or Auckland to Samoa, to Honolulu, to San Francisco.

INTERMENT WITHOUT DISPLAY.

Body of the Dead Statesman to Rest
in Chicago

GRESHAM'S SUCCESSOR NOT NAMED.

The Steamer Colima Wrecked On the Coast of Mexico—Great Loss of Life.
Bushnell for Governor of Ohio—Nicaragua Committee Favorably Impressed

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The remains of Secretary Gresham, accompanied by President Cleveland and every member of his Cabinet and the Secretary's family, left Washington at 12 15 o'clock on a special train for Chicago, where the interment will take place tomorrow.

CHICAGO, May 29.—United States Marshal John W. Arnold has been placed in charge of the local arrangements for the interment of the late Secretary Gresham. Only in a general way has he arranged for the march to the cemetery tomorrow. Colonel Corbin will reach Chicago at 7 a. m., and the Marshal and General Merritt will meet him on his arrival, and the programme will then be definitely arranged.

As contemplated tonight, there will be no attempt at display. It is probable that the only troops participating in the escort will be the cavalry and artillery from Fort Sheridan. The infantry will be brought to the city with the others at 9 o'clock in the morning,
and their participation will depend upon the wishes of Colonel Corbin.

During the afternoon Marshal Arnold and General Merritt had a conference with A. A. Sprague, the local representative of the Gresham family.
They arranged for the interment at Oakwoods, and for an undertaker to meet the funeral train at Sixty-third street, with a state hearse drawn by six black horses. The honorary pal-bearers, the city officials, the county judiciary and the Royal Legion will join in the escort at that point.

GRESHAM'S SUCCESSOR.

Mr. Cleveland Has Not Yet Determined
Who It Will Be.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The opinion expressed tonight by public men who are known to be close to President Cleveland is that he will not appoint a successor to the late Secretary Gresham for at least thirty days. It is also stated, upon what seems to be fairly good authority, that before his departure for Chicago today, he had had no time whatever to consult with his official associates regarding the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Gresham.

While there are many men discussed as available for this position, it is not believed that the gossips have yet been able to forecast the man Mr.
Cleveland will finally appoint. The consensus of opinion, however, among those high in official life who remain
in Washington is that Ambassador Bayard will be recalled from England and be elevated to the position
he occupied under the first Cleveland Administration. It is not believed that ex-Secretary Whitney would accept the place, even though President Cleveland should decide to offer it to him.

While Don M. Dickinson has frequently been mentioned in connection with this place, the probabilities are that Mr. Cleveland has not yet considered him in connection with the position and will not hereafter. There is a bare possibility that Mr. Cleveland may finally decide to make a transfer of his cabinet in order to fill the vacancy, and nominate a man outside of official circles. It can be stated as a fact, though, that it is altogether unlikely that Mr. Cleveland has ever given the matter serious consideration up to this time.

WRECK OF THE STEAMER COLIMA.

Foundered Off the Coast of Mexico—But Few Particulars.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—Off the coast of Mexico the steamship Colima
foundered on Monday of this week.
The Colima sailed from San Francisco on the 18th instant for Panama and way ports. She carried 112 passengers, forty in the cabin and thirty-six whites and forty-six Chinese in the steerage. The officers

PASTOR FORMALLY INSTALLED.

Large Congregation Witness the Ceremony in Central Union

MANY CLERGYMEN WERE PRESENT.

Members of the Church Appreciate the Worth of Rev. Douglas P. Birnie—A Brief Sketch of the New Pastor's Life. Congratulations Were in Order.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Rev. Douglas P. Birnie was installed last night as pastor of Central Union church before a congregation of some three hundred persons. Among those present were a number of visiting native ministers and delegates.

Rev. A. V. Soares read from 2d Timothy, 2:1-26. The sermon of Rev. C. W. Hill of Hilo, on "Preaching Christ," was a masterly effort. In it the speaker's similes were very fitting. Next came the prayer of installation by Rev. S. E. Bishop, followed by the charge to the pastor, delivered by Rev. C. M. Hyde. After appropriate remarks Rev. Henry Parker extended to the new pastor the right hand of fellowship. In an address to the people by Mr. E. P. Bailey of Wailuku, Maui, the speaker commended the pastor to them, and urged that the work which was to be done by him be not alone, but with their hearty co-operation. Following the closing hymn was the benediction, pronounced by the new pastor. The hearty hand-shakes of congratulation after the services showed the high regard in which Dr. Birnie is held by his congregation. The new pastor of Central Union

CAPTAIN SMALL LOSES.

He Will Now Have to Eat His Mainsail.

The San Francisco papers devoted considerable space to a so-called ocean race between the ships Tillie E. Starbuck and the Manuel Llaguno. The Starbuck left San Francisco on May 23d and arrived here on Tuesday. The Llaguno left on the 25th, and not withstanding the Starbuck's two days start, Captain Small, according to the papers, said that he would arrive here with the Llaguno ahead of the Starbuck. He has not done so.

The following is taken from a late Call: "Captain Small of the new sugar ship had blood in his eye when the wind filled his sails, and he yelled back to those on the tug Active that he would beat the Starbuck down to Honolulu or eat his mainsail. He had a good breeze for a start and as he squared away to the southward he looked like the winner in the ocean race."

Captain Small will be surprised to hear that his rival beat him out easily. He will be amazed when he knows that the Great Admiral, a vessel that left on the same day he did, arrived off port yesterday, gave an "all well" report and moved away for Manila, to load sugar for New York. Bets were freely offered in San Francisco that the Llaguno would be the first of the three to reach New York.

Of Interest to Managers of Plantations.

A Model Plant is not complete without Electric Power, thus dispensing with small Engines. Why not generate your power from one CENTRAL Station? One generator can furnish power to your Pumps, Centrifugals, Elevators, Plows, Railways and Hoists; also furnish light and power for a radius of from 15 to 20 miles. Electric Power being used saves the labor of hauling coal in your field, also water, and does away with high priced engineers, and only have one engine to look after in your mill. Where water power is available, it costs nothing to generate Electric Power. THE HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC COMPANY is now ready to furnish Electric Plants and Generators of all descriptions at short notice, and also has on hand a large stock of Wire, Chandeliers, and all Electrical Goods. All orders will be given prompt attention, and estimates furnished for Lighting and Power Plants; also attention given to House and Marine Wiring.

SEMI-WEEKLY.

FRIDAY, JUNE 7, 1895.

COPIES of the second edition of the "Tourist's Guide Through the Hawaiian Islands" have been received from Editor H. M. Whitney. This book has been completely revised, and while it tells the traveler how he may reach the points of interest about the islands, it gives valuable information concerning the country. The guide is a credit to the country, and its distribution throughout the world by the tourists calling at the islands cannot be without beneficial results. No tourist can afford to be without it.

THE Ohio republicans in their resolutions score the present administration for having hauled down the American flag over Hawaii, which appears to be one way of saying that it should be raised again. And this is the spirit of the gathering that has practically opened Governor McKinley's presidential boom. Although the governor lost in the nomination of the State ticket, his chances are good for appearing before the national convention next year with a staunch following throughout the western and central States.

THAT Hawaiian life should be made the subject of a burlesque is far from indicative of a lack of respect for Hawaii and the Hawaiians. Last November a swell club of Portland, Maine, staged Hawaii with good results, and now Portland, Oregon, has duplicated the success. Though these cities represent geographical extremes, two cities cannot be found in the intervening States where all classes hold a more friendly interest for this country. There is more or less nonsense to be sure, but it is not prompted by ridicule.

OWING to the continued illness of Representative Hitt, American politicians are casting about for ex-Speaker Reed's selection of the chairmanship of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs. As the Hawaiian question is far from dead, Mr. Reed's choice will be watched with not a little interest from this side of the water. The name most prominently mentioned in event of Mr. Hitt being incapacitated, is that of Hon. Nelson Dingley, of Maine. Mr. Reed might do worse than appoint Mr. Dingley. Although having given most of his attention to the shipping interests of the Atlantic coast, Mr. Dingley has traveled extensively, and is a man of broad ideas. There is nothing striking about the man either in personality or oratory; but, from the time he was first elected governor of his state, he has always been known as a close student, and his friends regard him as a safe leader, where soundness of judgment and conservatism are especial requirements.

WHAT T. H. Davies said before the inter-colonial convention at Ottawa of the Hawaiian Government's readiness to assist in the laying of the Pacific cable, we believe is as true today as it was the day it was uttered. There is nothing very attractive about Necker Island, if Great Britain did have its eye on the place, and since that island has been taken out of the category of possibilities, there ought not to be further attempts to pick out barren rocks in the Pacific as cable station sites. There is certainly no occasion for the promoters of a cable enterprise to seek some far-off corner where they will be constantly apologizing for the character of their surroundings. The proper plan of Pacific cable construction is an American link from the United States to Hawaii, from which point connecting lines may be laid to Australian and Asiatic points. When a bona fide movement is made to follow out this plan we can but believe that no government or corporation will have reason to question the liberality of the Hawaiian Government.

NEWSPAPERS AS TEACHERS.

Some idea of the wonderful power vested in the newspapers of the United States is given by a statement made by Commissioner of Education William T. Harris in a recent article published in Harper's. Mr. Harris says: "In a nation governed chiefly by public opinion, digested and uttered by the daily newspaper, a knowledge of the rudiments of reading, arithmetic and geography is of vital importance. An illiterate population is impenetrable by newspaper influence, and for it public opinion in any wide sense is impossible; its local prejudices are not purified and eliminated by thought and feeling on objects common to the whole civilized world. The transformation of an illiterate population into a population that reads the daily newspaper, and perforce thinks on national and international interests, is the great good accomplished by the free public school system thus far. That this general prevalence of elementary education is accomplished by a comparative neglect of the secondary and higher courses of study is evident from the fact that out of the number of pupils enrolled more than ninety-six in every hundred are pursuing elementary studies; less than three in a hundred are in secondary studies in high schools, academies and other institutions; only one in a hundred is in a college or school for higher studies."

In other words about ninety-six of every hundred pupils of the United States complete their education by means of the newspapers of the country. Leaving the care of teachers at an early age, this great percentage of the population has only the simplest tools with which to work out their mental development. They are thrown entirely upon their own resources from a mental, moral and financial standpoint and the teacher to which they turn most naturally is the newspaper. What they may learn of public affairs, what little of scientific knowledge they may gain, in fact the greater part of the education not obtained in the routine of daily employment is gleaned from the newspapers. Having started out with only the ability to read and not having the advantage of a tutelage which cultivates the tendency of careful selection, these ninety-six of every hundred simply devour word for word what happens to be put before them by a managing editor. Their minds feed on the contents of the daily paper and according to the character of the food, the tissues of their mental structure are strong and healthy or rotten, degraded and diseased by sensationalism and a low ebb of morality.

It's a good thing that the people can read the papers, otherwise their educational future might be one of hopeless ignorance, but at the same time the responsibility placed upon the newspaper promoters is by no means small. The enterprise that sends reporters prying into the privacy of homes, spreads scandal broadcast and white-washes the dark character of a political friend or party comes nearer the teacher who encourages his pupils to seek immoral sources of knowledge than anything else. The "power of the press" is often times a source of just among the men constantly on the alert to get something the other fellow doesn't know about, but it is a power the full strength of which is not displayed in a year or a generation, and when the hero of a scandal "scoop" is dead and gone those who come after him will be reaping the reward of the sentiment which such reading matter cultivated.

The presence of the Bennington and rumor of the probable arrival of the Olympia leave little doubt that the time has gone by when American interests in the Hawaiian Islands will be left unprotected. These facts are being cited as signs of the times indicating a change in the American Administration's policy. The people of this country can certainly continue to hope for the best.

DEATH OF SECRETARY GRESHAM.

When a statesman dies the whole world mourns, his political opponents forget any and all animosity that may have existed, realizing that it is man's highest duty to follow the dictates of his own conscience, and although he may have espoused the cause of a small minority, his honesty of purpose is honored, and whether he acted wisely or no is left to the proof of future events. It is human to discuss and criticize the public acts of high officials, but when the omnipotent power steps in and strikes down a man in the midst of the activity of public life and, to the weaker mind of mankind, before his life work is completed; when a man is called to the final judgment, the mouth of the political critic is very properly closed.

In the death of Secretary W. Q. Gresham, there is removed from the public life of the United States a man of ability and power. An efficient officer in the war of the rebellion, twice a candidate for the presidential nomination of the republican party, and finally elevated to the highest position in President Cleveland's cabinet, he showed himself possessed of that strength of purpose and courage of conviction that makes men great. Whatever may have been said of him in his attitude toward the public affairs of this country, Mr. Gresham apparently satisfied himself of what was right and no power could move him. Had he been as honestly informed of the true situation by those in whom he placed the trust of investigators, we believe the history of the past two years would have been given a different tone. It is only the Almighty will that makes no mistakes. Furthermore, Mr. Gresham was a man in whose integrity his fellow countrymen displayed a confidence that gave him some of the highest positions in the gift of the people. He was an honored American citizen and as such his name will always be revered.

MR. DEBS' CASE.

The decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Eugene V. Debs and his co-conspirators reasserts the power of the American government and is following out the principles of the lesson taught in the sixties. The decision is an important one and it may be that President Debs of the American Railway Union has been of some benefit to his country after all in being the cause of obtaining an expression from the Supreme Court which gives to the present generation proof of the strength of the United States as a ruler over the citizens of the several States. This last case ought to serve as a quietus upon the aspirations of self-appointed labor kings who suddenly spring into prominence by their sheer disregard for law and order and the welfare of their nation, blinding their followers by their own peculiar interpretation of the rights and liberties of the American workman. Thomas Paine said: "The natural rights of men, civil and political, are liberty, equality, security, property, social protection and resistance to oppression. Liberty consists in the right to do whatever is not contrary to the rights of others." Mr. Debs and his followers appear not to realize this.

The United States would indeed be a weak and unfortunate nation if a body of citizens in a State or States were able to block the avenues of government dispatch and interstate commerce without fear of the intervention of federal authority. As remarked in the decision of the court, "there is no such impotency in the national government."

The San Francisco Chronicle gives considerable editorial space to the rumor that the Japanese have matrimonial designs upon former representatives of royalty in this country. An amalgamation of this type would be interesting, to say the least, but we believe neither of the parties implicated in this bit of rumor have entirely lost their reason.

WHY CALL IT JINGOISM?

The Outlook has come to the conclusion that the so-called jingoism of certain editors and statesmen is one of the cardinal sins of the United States, and ought to be treated accordingly. It has taken the well-defined cases of jingoism and calls down the wrath upon the spirit of an aggressive policy simply because some politician wants to fight in order to carry out his ideas. It is somewhat surprising that the usual common sense of the Outlook should give way to that old cry, "What do we want of more territory?" It goes further and says the United States has more troubles than it wants already and really cannot afford to increase its political burdens.

On this score we doubt very much whether Hawaii will cause the Federal government more trouble as part and parcel of American territory than it does today as an independent nation. The cry of "What do we want Hawaii or Cuba for?" is as weak and full of childishness as the full-fledged fighting jingo is sometimes full of whiskey. What did the United States want of the land included in the Louisiana purchase? It was a big, unknown country filled with Indians. The resources of the States east of the Mississippi were by no means exhausted, nor were the problems of civilization worked out in those States to the entire satisfaction of religious or political theorists. Yet it was quite important that the United States should control the Mississippi river and finally in fact that the country from ocean to ocean should come under one flag. It also counted for considerable that the settlers of the new country—the men who developed its resources—claimed allegiance to the government at Washington. It counted not a little that every nation looked upon the United States as possessing a natural right to the territory. Fighting was not called for any more than it will be in the annexation of this country or any of the republics of the West Indies.

Very similar conditions confront Americans today in the question of adding Hawaii. It doesn't require a jingo's ravings to magnify the American colony, and American commercial influence in Hawaii. Even England has become tired of being a perpetual nightmare in the American mind, and its officials have stated that its interests and people in this country are safe in the hands of the United States. On the lines of argument laid down by the Outlook's slap at jingoism, it only requires the exercise of a fair amount of common sense to discover why the United States should take upon itself the responsibilities which its growing power and wide-spread commercial interests thrust upon it. Doing one's duty to fellow-countrymen may be jingoism, but we doubt it.

PROFESSOR LYONS' "FIND"

Some Washington correspondent with an inventive brain has given Professor Lyons' article on the Venezuelan boundary, which appeared in the ADVERTISER, quite a sensational turn. We are not aware that the English government has made any attempt to suppress the copies of the Geographical Magazine from which Mr. Lyons obtained his information. The magazine has very properly been some years upon the list of periodicals received regularly at the Foreign Office. The fact that the research which resulted in bringing the past history of the Venezuelan boundary to light was made by a citizen of Hawaii, has no particular significance except that it proves to the world that our officials keep in touch with the affairs of other countries. The same magazine can doubtless be found in any of the large libraries of the States, or possibly in the State Department at Washington. In tracing the boundary question back to earlier dates, Professor Lyons finds in a reliable French magazine of the year 1856, that at that time the starting point of the boundary line was about mid way between the Orinoco and Essequibo rivers, whereas at present the line begins close by the Orinoco. Getting control of the great tributaries has always been one of the features of British aggression. We can agree with the correspondent in one point—Venezuela is right.

THE English Court would have bestowed a blessing on Oscar Wilde by giving him a life sentence. Wherever he may lay his head he will very properly be dead to the self-respecting world for the remainder of his life.

C. B. REYNOLDS,

Agent Board of Health.

He Invested Only 7-6.

THERE is a man who has spent the past twenty-five years of his life exploring for gold and other minerals in Queensland, New South Wales, Victoria, Tasmania, and New Zealand. He has no doubt picked up some money, yet he says that the investment of 7-6 brought him in bigger returns than any other ever made.

Yet hold on a minute. Don't let us jump to the conclusion that we can all get rich out of the proceeds of 7-6 till we hear further from this financier. He has a humorous way of putting a serious thing, for which we should like him all the more. Some folk have an idea that sound sense and genuine fun are twin brothers, but they are all the same.

Our friend's name is William Bromfield Peck, and he lives at Russell, New Zealand, a long way off. He says it is a lovely country and intends to stay in it the balance of his days. He has been landed in Australia, from England, in 1869, and has been there long enough to know what he is talking about. He advises persons of limited means who would like to become small landholders to emigrate to New Zealand.

Still, he reminds us that in the end we must pay for what we get. "The calling of a profession is a hard business," he says. "It is full of hard work. Besides, it entails rough living, such as salt junk, soddened damper, with tea in bucketfuls. One must have the digestive capacity of an ostrich or an anaconda to stand that diet for long. It must therefore be taken as proof of the profound development of my system, when I mention that I actually stood it for nearly twenty-five years."

"My punishment was delayed, you see, but it didn't fail. At last the climax came, and I was prostrated with agonising pain in the stomach and all the other symptoms of a profound development of all the digestive organs. I had to knock off work and cease all exertion. I was imbued with disgust with all things mundane. I believe that dyspepsia is responsible for a large portion of the world's suicides."

Mr. Peck's conjecture is exactly parallel with the fact as set forth in the official statistics of all civilized countries. No chronic disease so demoralises and depresses human nature. It attacks the secret straghts of the reason and drives people insane; it stupefies the sensibilities; it turns men and women into selfish, careless, nuisance; it impels them to commit crime. All this in addition to their own desolation and suffering. Yes, Mr. Peck is quite right.

But to get back to what he says about himself. "At the advice of a friend—Mr. W. Williams of this place—I began to take the far-famed Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup. What result did it have? I'll tell you: It has transformed me from a prematurely old man into a young man."

"I am a rapid eater and can't break myself of the bad habit. Hence I make it a point to keep a bottle by me always and an occasional dose when necessary to set me right."

"I can safely assert that the investment of 7-6 in Seigel's Curative Syrup was the best I ever made in all my chequered career. You may depend that I prescribe this medicine to all and sundry people I come in contact with. Prior to using it I spent pounds at different times, but only got partial relief. The Syrup seems to make straight for the seat of the trouble. Upon these lines just to show other sufferers the way out. There are any number of respectable persons here who can attest the truth of what I have written—Respectfully (Signed) Wm. Bromfield Peck, Russell, Bay of Islands, New Zealand, July 2nd, 1892."

We don't call for witnesses. Mr. Peck's tale is frankness and truth itself. We hold out our hand in greeting across the sea. Dyspepsia is a living death, and Mother Seigel gives new life. Millions sing that chorus. But he had better eat slower. Write again and tell us you are doing so. Friend Peck.

Timely Topics

May 30, 1895.

It is a striking commentary on the diplomacy of Messrs. Cleveland, Gresham and Company that while Nicaragua turned first to the United States for help in her trouble with England, the chief honors of the settlement are carried off by Nicaragua's neighbor, Salvador.

A problem so difficult for the Cleveland administration to handle in any satisfactory way, before Corinto was seized, has now been easily solved through the Salvadoran Minister in London.

It is now asserted in Washington that the suggestion to Salvador to put herself forward was made by the Department of State. Be that as it may, it does not take from her the credit of her act.

It only raises the question why British occupation of Corinto was awaited before a settlement was reached. Of course, Salvador was powerless to remonstrate or reason with England while threatening her would have been out of the question. Salvador has not a solitary warship, nor is she of such importance to England that she could be counted upon to help her. She simply satisfied herself with the briefest examination that Nicaragua could and would pay the money demanded by Great Britain, offered herself as guarantor, and the whole thing was over.

Salvador is the smallest sovereign state in this hemisphere. In area she is less than New Jersey; in population not equal to Connecticut. But in Nicaragua's hour of distress it is she, rather than that has proved herself the giant and the United States the pigmy. It is said that "Coming events cast their shadows before them." Can it be possible that the United States will again play the part of the pigmy as regards diplomacy in connection with these islands?

Imitation is the sincerest flattery and there can be no better evidence of the superiority and value of the Pennsylvania Lawn Mower. We regard durability as the first importance, and with decent care one of the mowers ought to last a life time. We regard beauty of design, which means graceful outlines as being of as much importance as the durability. It is one of the lightest and easiest running lawn mowers ever placed upon the market, a child can run it and considers it is fun. A well kept lawn is one of the many things that go to make a home attractive and inviting. You use the lawn mower to keep the grass well trimmed, but grass will not grow to any extent without encouragement. Nature is very lavish with her gifts, but we must not expect her to do everything.

Take a few minutes of your time some morning and invest in a good quality garden hose, and attach it to one of our Ball Nozzle Lawn Sprinklers. No directions are necessary. Turn on the water—the ball does it all. The Ball Nozzle once seen sells itself. It is a perfect lawn sprinkler and reproduces the April shower. Another point is that it is one of the best tree irrigators, and this feature should be thoroughly and carefully investigated. What a blessing during the season of the south winds. It is simple in construction, very compact and amazingly cheap.

Opposite Spectacle Works,
507 FORT STREET.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. H. M. Von Holt returned by the Mariposa yesterday.

Dr. J. K. Smith, of Koloa, Kauai, returned home yesterday.

A. G. Hawes, Jr., a son of British Commissioner Hawes arrived yesterday.

Miss Florence Monroe is a late arrival. Miss Monroe is an educationist from Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. Ellen McCully Higgins, so well known in Honolulu society, arrived by the Mariposa yesterday.

Mrs. W. F. Allen, accompanied by her niece, Miss C. C. Bishop, was a passenger by the Mariposa.

Mrs. Thomas Smith, wife of the purser on the Mariposa, arrived yesterday. Mrs. Smith will visit Hilo shortly.

Alex J. Rutherford, Clerk of the House of the New Zealand Parliament, was a through passenger on the Mariposa yesterday.

Mrs. Walter M. Giffard, wife of the Acting French Commissioner, returned yesterday after visiting friends in San Francisco and elsewhere.

Mr. John Duthie, M. P. from New Zealand, was a through passenger on the Mariposa yesterday. He has just completed a six months' visit to England.

S. Harvey, who was bound for Auckland on the Mariposa, was taken badly with erysipelas while on the way from San Francisco. He is in the Queen's Hospital.

Charles B. Welles arrived yesterday; many theater-goers will remember him as one of a company that played in the local opera house some years ago. He was formerly a member of the old California Theater stock company.

Postmaster-General Oat and Mrs. Oat returned yesterday looking well, after visiting friends in San Francisco. Mr. Oat was well pleased with the manner in which Messrs. Kenake and Atwater looked after things during his absence.

Mrs. J. H. Mulligan, wife of the American consul at Apia, Samoa, was a passenger on the Mariposa to that place yesterday, where she will join her husband. During her short stay in the city she was the guest of friends. On her return from Samoa she will stop over a steamer.

WILL EDUCATE TOADS.

Commissioner Marsden to Make War on the Japan Bug.

By the Steamship Mariposa which arrived from San Francisco yesterday morning, Commissioner Marsden received 300 horned toads from San Diego. These toads were procured and shipped by H. P. Wood, the Hawaiian Consul at San Diego. The toads were imported with the hope that they will be of service in thinning out the various Japan bugs.

Though these reptiles are called toads they are in point of fact a species of lizard and have a well developed tail. It is the intention of the Commissioner to put the toads through an educational course before liberating them. The public are invited to help in the good work by going out after dark and catching a number of the bugs; then take them to the Government Nursery, on King street, and have the pleasure of seeing them devoured by the toads. Another consignment is expected on the next Australia.

A Patrolman Hurt.

Mounted patrolman Boarfeld met with a very severe accident yesterday at 2 p. m. While riding at a walk near Punahou he pulled in rein to stop his horse, whereupon the animal without warning reared backward, pinning Boarfeld to the ground, and besides bruising him badly broke one of the small bones of his left leg. He was removed to his home on the Plains and his injuries attended to. Boarfeld said that his horse had always been a very quiet and gentle animal.

Y. M. C. A. Matters.

The regular monthly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held in the hall last night. The attendance was small.

F. W. Thrum, vice-president, served in place of President F. J. Lowry, absent.

The regular monthly reports of committees were called for. There were several responses.

Rev. H. H. Peck spoke of having received several letters, some addressed to Mr. Corbett and some to himself, from Mr. Yatman, who spoke of looking forward with a great deal of interest and pleasure to his proposed work here.

A copy of the new edition of the "Tourist's Guide" would be an acceptable present to some friend who lives abroad. Copies can be had at the newsdealers.

THE EVANGELICAL ASSOCIATION.

Important Session Held at Kaumakapili Church Yesterday.

CIRCEGAMES ADDRESS THE BODY.

Captain Walkup, of the Hiram Bingham, One of the Speakers—Rev. Dr. Hyde's Annual Report of the North Pacific Missionary Institute—Other Reports.

The Association resumed its sessions in Kaumakapili church at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. After the usual devotional exercises the first hour was devoted to fraternal greetings from the representatives from other organizations. Rev. S. Sugiyama, of Hilo, spoke for the Japanese Mission. Rev. J. Okabe, the Honolulu pastor, leaves in July for a year's study at Chicago. Rev. H. W. Peck spoke for the M. E. church, claiming a partnership inheritance in the honors accorded to the missionary fathers from America and the results of their seventy-five years of labor in these islands. Rev. D. P. Birnie, on behalf of the Central Union church, assured the association of the deep interest felt in the progress and prosperity of the Hawaiian churches.

Rev. C. W. Hill, of Hilo, spoke in behalf of the California churches, telling of the progress made in spite of special difficulties, especially recently in the new life and vigor of their Pacific Theological Seminary at Oakland. As pastor of the Hilo church, he spoke of his personal love and respect for Rev. S. L. Desha, who was translating for him. He regretted that language should be almost as much of a barrier as seas and mountains, but felt more and more sure that the love of God would do away such barriers as steam and electricity were annihilating time and distance. Rev. A. C. Walkup, captain of the Hiram Bingham, who arrived from San Francisco in his little gasoline schooner on Wednesday morning, was introduced and declared himself as representing not an American missionary society but the Gilbert Islands churches with whose life and welfare he had identified himself. He presented for fraternal recognition and prayerful remembrance two young men from Los Angeles, California, who were going down with him to the Gilbert Islands as lay workers in Christ's work of human redemption. They are supported by a school in Los Angeles, are not ordained as preachers, but expect to help in the fight for Christ's victory over Satan, for he is busy there and everywhere, and what evil he does not do is what he cannot do. But the Lord Jesus is master of the situation and can call out and send out workers as the needs of the field are made evident. The time allotted had expired, but the association wanted to hear from Mr. F. W. Damon, superintendent of the Chinese Mission. He said that though born here in Honolulu and born again into life in Christ, he had experienced this last winter what seemed to him like a new birth. He felt more like a Hawaiian than ever before, since in the little Chinese Mission chapel on Hotel street, he had been working, singing, praying and exhorting with Hawaiians as well as Chinese. The combination was no union of incompatibles, but a real lively, hearty co-operation. Such union was possible and desirable and there was room for more of it in our Christian work. On his recent tour he was speaking in a Hawaiian church, and seeing a fine looking organ thought that he would give the people a touch of music to strand uplift their souls. He pulled out the stops, and worked the bellows, and propped the keys. Not a sound did he hear. A good brother rushed up to him to explain that the rats had got into the instrument and had a good time eating this part and that part, but had left it a mass of crumbs. So his Christian work we may have, we must have a well-planned organization. But organization is not sufficient of itself alone. We need the inbreathing of God's Holy Spirit to give us enthusiasm, energy and success. Circumstances seem favorable for a mighty work of grace. Let all God's people unite in prayer for the blessing in all its fullness.

Chief Justice Judd as president of the Hawaiian Board in a brief address urged upon the members of the Hawaiian churches fidelity by their obligations to work persistently, intelligently, zealously and unitedly for the Lord Jesus.

The regular order of business of the association was then resumed and Mr. W. W. Hall, treasurer of the Hawaiian board, read his annual report. The total receipts for the year were $22,860.61; total expenditures, $25,582.30, including an indebtedness from last year of $2,478.03. Surely this community, so generous in their gifts, will not allow this incubus of debt to put an additional burden of worry and perplexity upon those who on its behalf are doing their best to meet the obligations for help and guidance imposed upon them in the divine providence in the growth and progress of the various departments of Christian work under the management of the Hawaiian Board. A careful scrutiny of the treasurer's report will show how carefully these trust funds are expended, and with what needful economy the various claims on the Board for publication, education, preaching, administration, are considered and met. The estimate made last year was $22,700; the actual expenses, $22,860.61.

Rev. O. P. Emerson, corresponding secretary of the Hawaiian Board, read in Hawaiian the report, which he had previously read in English at the meeting of the board Tuesday evening for their approval and adoption. It is a full yet concise and interesting account of an immense amount of Christian work done in this community of so many nationalities, and so widely scattered. It took nearly an hour and a half to read, but it held the close attention of the spectators till the end. It is hardly possible to do justice to it in any brief abstract.

In the afternoon session some unfinished routine business occupied the first half-hour. Then came Rev. Dr. Hyde's annual report of the North Pacific Missionary Institute, supplemented by a brief address from his associate, Professor John Leadingham. Eleven students had been under instruction, three of these having entered this year. Instruction is now given in the afternoons as well as the mornings. Friday afternoon and Saturday are the only times available for such work as may be available as a means of self-support. It has been necessary therefore to supplement the meagre weekly cash allowance, granted by the Hawaiian Board, by the distribution of weekly rations of rice, bread, salmon and kerosene to each student. The students are not pampered children of ease by any means, but learn from the very first to endure hardness as good soldiers of Jesus Christ. Professor Leadingham's lessons in English have not been confined to the students, but he has kindly consented to teach English to a class of young Hawaiian lawyers. Two Portuguese young men also, who wish to enter the gospel ministry, have been under instruction for the last three months.

There was considerable discussion about the relations of the churches to the Hawaiian Board. Some apparently had the idea that the board was a sort of irresponsible ruler; others had the very opposite idea that the board was merely an employee of the association, to do its bidding. The discussion resulted in the passage of a resolution, asking the Hawaiian Board to appoint a special committee to investigate the whole subject of property held by the Hawaiian Churches, and report as to the best method for its legal care and preservation.

The association adjourned, to meet again at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The examination of the students of the North Pacific Missionary Institute will be held at Kaumakapili Church, beginning at 9 o'clock this morning.

WOMAN'S BOARD ENTERTAINS.

The Annual Tea Party at Central Union Church Yesterday.

Some four hundred people gathered in the Sunday School rooms of Central Union church yesterday afternoon. The occasion of the assemblage was the preparation made by the Woman's Board of Missions for the entertainment of the members of the Hawaiian Evangelical Association and other Christian workers of various nationalities. Abundance of good things—very good they were, for Honolulu house-keepers are famous hostesses—had been provided. Even Hawaiian appetites were not adequate to disposing of such abundance.

At the close of the repast the chairs were turned to face the platform, and brief addresses were given after singing in Hawaiian, with unusual fluency and volume of voice even for Hawaiians, and a prayer in which the assembly was led by Father Bailey, formerly in charge of the Mission School at Wailuku, Maui. Mrs. Hyde, the president of the Woman's Board, gave the address of welcome. She spoke of the kindly feelings toward every child of God which Jesus' love awakens; of the blessedness of any part in his work; of the need of diligence and faithfulness, and of the importance of having back of all work a true and earnest Christian character, as back of the small lamp in the headlight of the locomotive is the reflector that brings together and sends far ahead the light that illuminates its onward path.

Rev. E. S. Timoteo, moderator of the association, responded, his address being translated by Chief Justice Judd, president of the Hawaiian Board. He spoke particularly of the present condition of the Hawaiian churches and the project under contemplation of sending out a committee of visitation and evangelization. He asked with great earnestness that all God's people would remember in their prayers this most needful work.

Professor Leadingham contrasted the Parliament of Religions, with its members each advocating the superiority of his own separate belief, and such gatherings as these assemblages of Christian workers, animated by a common faith and hope and love. Miss Abel gave some account of the work in Ruk and the progress made in the schools.

Rev. S. Kapu, of Wailuku, said that such a scene as this reminded him of what Jacob saw at Bethel, and his exclamation, "This is none other than the gate of heaven." Rev. W. N. Lono, recently from Malina, in the Gilbert Islands, said the audience of various hues reminded him of a woodland scene he once saw with the sun light glinting through in spots, and the trees of all sizes, shapes and styles of growth.

Rev. Mr. Soares, of the Portuguese Mission, bespoke for his countrymen a welcome in the affections of Hawaiian people, and urged a general and more complete consecration of all our energies to the Lord's work. Rev. Mr. Wong, pastor of the Chinese church, told of the wide opportunities for Christian work, larger congregations, more interest among the young Chinese. All nationalities call Jesus Christ the elder brother, and quoted Confucius' sentiment, "Within the four seas, that is, in the whole world, 'all men are brothers.'" Rev. Jiro Okabe had two minutes allowed him, and said that in Japan was a famous mountain and a beautiful garden around a temple; in fact all Japan was to him a paradise. But the glory of Japan was not its mountain or temple or gardens; but the spirit that actuated the people. His desire and prayer was that that spirit might be baptized with fire from heaven. So in Hawaii nei its true wonders are not wonders of nature, but the missionary spirit that underlies and pervades the leading men of this country. This is the true life of the land, and though coming here a stranger, he wished to be regarded as a kamaaina, identified with the welfare and prosperity of Hawaii nei.

Rev. D. P. Birnie made the closing address. Love, guard, and keep pure the home. It is the foundation of the church. It is at the base of sound government. Keep evil out of it, teach evermore the love of the heavenly father, for the nations that stand foremost today are the nations that have God in the home.

Another respite was granted Thomas St. Clair, the Hesper murderer, on May 27th. He was to be hung three days later. The execution has been put off until October 18th. The cause of the President's clemency is generally attributed to the fact that Hansen's case is still pending in the United States Supreme court, and that it has been thought best to give St. Clair the benefit of the expected decision in the case of his partner in crime. In the meantime St. Clair's friends are working hard to have his sentence commuted and they fully expect to succeed before October brings around the fatal day.

The new yacht Defender, which is being built by the Herreshoffs, will be the deepest craft of the kind ever built in America, and likewise the slenderest in model. In both design and material, therefore, she will be such a radical departure from preconceived American ideas that, should she justify the hopes of her builders, she may not only defend the cup triumphantly but lead the way to a revolution in American yachting architecture.—Ex.

THE VENEZUELAN DISPUTE.

Hawaii Furnishes Conclusive Proof of England's Unjust Claim.

STATEMENT OF CURTIS J. LYONS.

Original Map Discovered in Hawaiian Survey Office Shows Territory in Dispute Belongs to Venezuela—Valuable Assistance in Settling Claim.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—According to advices recently received here, important British documents have been found at Hawaii as to the pending British-Venezuela boundary question, in which the United States has urged arbitration as a means of settlement. Assistant Surveyor-General Curtis J. Lyons, of Hawaii, has examined them and made a map accompanied by a statement which it is said supports the Venezuelan contention, even on the evidence thus far presented by the British.

Senor Andrade, the Venezuelan Minister here, says it is the first time that the documents sent out by the British foreign office have been made available in the controversy. The records now brought to public attention by Mr. Lyons were furnished to Hawaii by the British foreign office at a time when Hawaii was a monarchy and largely under British influence. They are now on file in the survey office at Honolulu where Mr. Lyons, as assistant surveyor-general, has had access to them. He was led to the investigation by the publication last month of an official British map of the Guiana territory. On comparing this with the map furnished by the foreign office twenty years ago, he found that the boundary line had been entirely changed. The first map gives the line as Venezuela claims it should be. The last map shifts the line far westward and includes as British territory about 10,000 square miles which the first map showed to be clearly Venezuelan territory. The intervening 10,000 square miles is the subject of contention. The old map was made by the Royal Geographical Society of England and was thereafter given official approval and sent out by the foreign office. It is therefore, considered of scientific as well as official value. Mr. Lyons, in the course of his statement, which is signed, says: "The area thus taken is as shown on these maps, 10,000 square miles or more larger than the area of either Massachusetts or Vermont. What the Venezuelans are claiming we have not the means of knowing, but it is very natural that they should claim at least that British Guiana should adhere to its own original map."

WOMAN'S BOARD OF MISSIONS.

Report of Annual Meeting Held in Central Union Church.

Labor Among Japanese and Hawaiians Kindergarten Work—Appropriations and Expenditures—Brief Talks.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Board of Missions was held Wednesday in Central Union church. A large number of persons were present. The church was beautifully decorated with greens and flowers.

Promptly at 10 o'clock the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Hyde. Reports of the different departments of the work followed, showing that faithful and successful work had been done. Miss Green reported for the Hawaiians, telling of her personal efforts among them. Then followed a record of service among the Chinese by Mrs. Frank Damon and Mrs. Soares respectively. Miss Castle, in her usual earnest and efficient manner, told of patient and encouraging work among Japanese.

The Home department record of Mrs. Castle was read by another, as she was unable to be present.

The able management of work was shown in the treasurer's report, a clear and concise document made manifest the way in which the money was spent during the year. It likewise showed a small balance on the right side. This is very creditable when the amount of work is considered and the dual times financially are taken into account. Something over $1000 was expended.

Appropriations for next year were voted and a slight advance made.

The secretary gave a summary of the year's work and presented a scheme for meetings during the coming year, which was adopted. This indicates speakers and topics for the next twelve months.

Just before noon an exhibition of kindergarten work under the direction of the society was given. Hawaiian, Portuguese, Chinese, Japanese and American children, each group in national costume, took part in a short drill.

At noon the meeting adjourned; the ladies gathered in the parlors, where a dainty lunch was served.

Many gentlemen dropped in during the closing hour and were present at lunch.

After an hour spent in social intercourse, the society met again at 2 o'clock.

Work of the kindergartens was formally passed into the hands of the new organization, which hereafter will have entire charge of that work.

The new society is to be incorporated and will not be under the control or direction of any church, but instead make appeal to the public for support. The results of last year's work were very encouraging.

Brief talks were given by the minister of the church, Mr. Birnie, Mr. Frank Damon, Mrs. Captain Garland of the Morning Star, Mrs. Ostrem and Miss Abell.

ANOTHER WHITE SQUADRON SHIP

Quick Trip of the Trim Gunboat Bennington to Port.

She May Remain in Port for Three Months—The Olympia Will Come to Relieve Her.

The U. S. S. Bennington, Commander Charles M. Thomas, U. S. N., commanding, arrived from San Francisco Thursday morning. She came down in 7 days and 13 hours—four hours quicker than the Yorktown's trip of last December.

The Bennington is a sister ship to the Yorktown. It is her first visit to this port. She is a trim-looking cruiser of the third-class. She carries 185 men all told. Her armament is as follows: Six 6-inch guns, two six-pounders, two three-pounders, two gatlings, and two thirty-seven millimetres. The vessel is 230 feet long and 36 feet wide; she draws 14 feet of water. Her hull is made of steel.

The following is a list of her officers:

Commander Charles M. Thomas, commanding.
Lieutenant A. B. Speyer, executive officer.
Lieutenant W. P. Elliott, navigator.
Watch Officers—Lieutenant H. T. Mayo, Lieutenant C. P. Eaton, Ensign H. J. Flegemeier, Ensign C. B. McVay, Jr.
Ensign R. J. Hortung.
Chief Engineer, J. K. Barton.
P. A. Engineer, C. T. Hibbert.
Paymaster, J. S. Phillips.
Pay Clerk, D. M. Addison.

The officers of the ship expect to remain in port for about three months. This is merely a supposition on their part; nothing positive will be learned until the return of Admiral Beardslee from Maui. He is expected tomorrow afternoon on the steamer W. G. Hall.

A late dispatch says: "Rear Admiral Beardslee, Commander-in-chief of the Pacific station, now in Hawaiian waters with his flagship, the Philadelphia, has been ordered to return to the United States if, in his opinion, the presence of two American warships is unnecessary."

A dispatch dated Vallejo, May 25th, says: "The Bennington may carry orders for the Philadelphia to return, though this is hardly probable, for the reason that flour and other ship's stores are to be taken by the Bennington to the Philadelphia."

"Another reason for the supposition that the Bennington will not relieve the Philadelphia is that Lieutenant G. M. Stoney, who has been detached from the navy yard as aid to the commandant, has been ordered to proceed by the steamer of June 15th to Honolulu to report on board the Philadelphia for duty."

"The Olympia is under orders to leave on the 10th of June for Honolulu, provided a court martial of two of her officers, which is to take place, has been concluded by that time. The detail for the court is not yet known, but it is expected that some of the members of the board will come from the East, as the court-martial will be an important one. The judge advocate will probably come from the department and bring the documents along. When the Olympia goes as is expected to Honolulu, Admiral Beardslee will, if he receives orders to that effect, transfer the flag on board and give the cruiser the last official speed trial, which is always required before her payment is made."

The above MOLINE WHEEL WALKING PLOWS we now carry in stock and can fill orders for same promptly. They have been thoroughly tried and the fact that we have sold SEVENTEEN on the island of Hawaii alone during the past two months shows that the planters know a good thing when they see it.

We still sell the well-known Hall Breaker, 12, 14, 15 and 16 inch, which is also made by the MOLINE PLOW COMPANY. One of our latest customers says this:

"Send me a 16 inch 'Hall's' Breaker, I have tried other makes lately and find they do not do the work that yours will."

We have all sizes of Plows from 4 to 16 inches; also side hill and furrow Plows.

MISSION CHILDREN'S SOCIETY.

Annual Meeting Held at J. B. Atherton's Home Last Saturday.

NEW MEMBERS AND COLLECTIONS.

Reports of Recording and Corresponding Secretaries—Election of Officers and Board of Directors for ensuing year. Annual Address of the President.

The annual meeting of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society was held Saturday, June 1st, at the residence of J. B. Atherton.

Meeting opened by singing, followed with prayer led by Rev. Hiram Bingham.

The following were made eligible to membership on the payment of dues: Mrs. Frasher, Rev. and Mrs. J. Leaningham and Miss Grace Richards.

The evening's collection amounted to about $10.

The report of the recording secretary was then read and ordered printed.

REPORT OF RECORDING SECRETARY.

Our meetings during the past year have been one less than usual on account of the existence of martial law in January, but, including the meeting tonight, the total attendance has been 408, or an average of thirty-seven for the eleven meetings.

Special music selections have been given by Misses Dixon, Axtell, Richards, Burhans, Carrie Castle, Jones, Smith and the Kamehameha Glee Club.

The Maile Wreath presented some very interesting and valuable talks and essays, among which were the following: "The Mausoleum of India," Mrs. E. P. Maxwell; "The Jews in New York," W. N. Armstrong; "Night-blooming Cereus," Mrs. W. F. Frear; "An Hawaiian Story," Prof. W. D. Alexander; "College Life of Girls," Mrs. W. F. Frear; "Theosophy and Its First Converts," W. R. Castle; "A Visit to the South and Hampton Institute," Miss M. A. Brewer; "The Alleged Neglect of Industrial Training by the Missionary Fathers," Prof. W. D. Alexander; "The Alleged Refusal of the Missionary Sons to Enter into the Work of Their Fathers," Rev. S. E. Bishop; "Incidents of Missionary Labor in Hawaii," Rev. S. E. Bishop; "Battle of the Roses," Miss A. E. Judd; "My Trip to Hualalai," A. W. Crockett; "Incidents of Portuguese Life," Mrs. A. V. Soares; "The Physiology of the Tenement House," Rev. Kenneth Duncan; "Helen's Emergency," Mrs. W. F. Frear; "Egoism and Altruism," Mrs. J. M. Whitney; "A Lullaby" (poetry), Mrs. W. F. Frear; "Reminiscences of Mr. Edward Bailey During the Time of Kamehameha III" (read by Mrs. Frear); "The New, Old Testament," Rev. Kenneth Duncan.

Many of the subjects in the above list were treated in a manner which makes them of value historically.

It has been suggested that the volumes of the Maile Wreath be indexed and placed in the rooms of the Historical Society.

The following have acted as editors of the Maile Wreath during the year: Mrs. A. B. Lyons, Mrs. W. F. Frear, W. N. Armstrong, Dr. N. B. Emerson, Mrs. L. B. Coan, Rev. S. E. Bishop, Prof. W. D. Alexander, Miss Agnes Judd, Mrs. J. M. Whitney, Mrs. A. B. Soares, A. W. Crockett and Rev. Kenneth Duncan.

In order to make it easier for members to serve upon the Maile Wreath committee, it has been thought best to nominate more than one month in advance. A committee was also nominated to serve four months, beginning in November.

Twenty-eight new members have been received during the year, of which the following is a list: HONORARY—Dr. and Mrs. Rife, Rev. and Mrs. Price, Rev. R. G. Hutchins.

ANNUAL—Mrs. Sadie Brown, Miss Laura Pires, Rev. Kenneth Duncan, A. W. Crockett, W. E. Beckwith, Miss Florence A. Perrott. LIFE—Prof. T. Richards, Cordelia A. Gilman, Joseph Atherton Richards, Mrs. Annie E. Atwater, C. F. Perry, Robert Shipman Thurston, Theodore A. Cooke, Eleanor Henry Castle, Mrs. Catherine P. Gulick, Miss Isabella Renwick, W. L. Howard, Nathan Scofield, Arthur B. Wood, Juliette M. Atherton, Laura Annis Atherton, Rev. J. Leaningham and Mrs. Anna Rich Leaningham.

The good attendance at the meetings during the year is an index that the design of the society to "cherish and promote union amongst its members," is meeting with a happy fulfillment and the gratifying increase in membership makes a wider field "to cultivate an active missionary spirit, stir up our members to do good work, and, more especially, to assist in the support of Christian missions."

Respectfully submitted, W. L. HOWARD, Recording Secretary.

The above report was ordered printed.

Next came the annual report of the corresponding secretary, which contained the following points:

1. Extracts from journals fully explaining the status of mission work in the Micronesian field.
 2. Extracts from letters received from "Cousins" in Japan, Turkey and Spain.
 3. Extracts from letters received from "Cousins" in the United States.
 4. Leading historical events during the administration of the new Government. Comments.
 5. Items of interest concerning membership.
 6. A list of marriages, births and deaths as follows: Marriages, 8; births, 12; deaths, 12.
- The report will be printed.
- The treasurer stated that he had not prepared a regular report on account of the mail by the City of Peking, but was pleased to say that the $250, as appropriated at the beginning of the year for various purposes, had been raised. On Friday the balance of the money was paid, "leaving him penniless."

It was voted that when the report was completed, and audited by the vice president, it be printed with the others.

Judge W. F. Frear was nominated and elected president for the ensuing year. Mrs. Frear stated that Judge Frear was unable to serve and that she was fully authorized to present his resignation, which she did. Resignation accepted.

Chief Justice Judd was nominated, but refused to serve on account of arduous duties and the distance of his home from the center of town.

Another nomination for president was referred to the Board of Directors which constitutes the nominating committee.

J. S. Emerson was unanimously elected vice-president; W. L. Howard, recording secretary, the vice-president casting the electing ballot; Mrs. L. B. Coan, corresponding secretary, unanimously elected; Rev. O. H. Gulick, treasurer, same.

The members of the Board of Directors unanimously elected were as follows: Rev. O. P. Emerson, Mrs. O. H. Gulick.

Mrs. W. F. Frear was nominated for an elective member of the board, but refused to accept. Mrs. Gulick was elected in her place.

G. P. Castle, who has had charge of the Maile Wreath papers for many years, was re-elected for the ensuing year, with the recording secretary as assistant.

Maile Wreath editors to serve four months beginning with the July meeting were elected as follows: C. J. Lyons, chairman; Rev. O. H. Gulick, Miss Laura Pires and Mrs. J. H. Higgins (formerly Mrs. Judge McCully), who will shortly arrive from the States.

The second set of editors, to serve four months, beginning with November, were as follows: Professor T. Richards, chairman; Miss Nettie Hammond, W. E. Beckwith and Miss M. A. Brewer.

The appropriations as recommended by the board for the following year were carried as follows:

For the support of teachers at Kawaiahae Seminary.....	$ 200
For the support of pupils in Kawaiahae Seminary.....	200
Same in East Maui Female Seminary.....	200
Same in Kohala Girls' School.....	200
Same in Hilo Boys' Boarding School.....	200
For Kauai Industrial School.....	200
Aid to schools of Chinese Mission.....	200
Aid to schools of Portuguese Mission.....	200
Aid to Japanese Mission Work.....	100
Mortlock teachers.....	300
For Corresponding Secretary.....	60
For publishing Annual Reports.....	110
For Contingencies.....	30
Total.....	$2,200

It was requested that the Mortlock teachers be asked to assist the society in raising the $300 appropriated, by sending mats, fans, shells and other saleable articles to the society.

It was voted that the retiring president's annual address be read at the adjourned annual meeting to be held June 15th at the home of Chief Justice Judd.

Branch Patriotic Society.

Those interested in forming a society of Sons of the American Revolution are earnestly requested to hand in their applications on or before the 15th inst., as it is hoped that the society will be formed on June 17th (anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill).

It requires fifteen persons to organize—ten having been secured. Forms for application can be had at the Safe Deposit Company's office.

Regulars in Camp.

The quarters of Companies E and F, N. G. H., in the basement of the Executive building, are receiving a complete overhauling. The work was commenced yesterday. In consequence of this fact forty-five tents were pitched on the Likiep street lawn of the Executive building yard for the accommodation of the regulars. A week at most will be required to complete the work, which was instituted by Colonel McLean.

THE EVANGELICAL ASSOCIATION.

Good Attendance of Pastors and Delegates at Session.

New Missionary for Butaritari—Increasing Contributions to the Hawaiian Board—Meeting Today

The general association of the Hawaiian Evangelical churches began its annual meeting in Kamaikapili church at 10 a.m. Wednesday morning. There was a very general attendance of pastors and delegates, only five pastors failing to be present.

The association was organized by the choice of Rev. E. S. Timoteo, as moderator, and Rev. J. Davis, as scribe. The first item in the order of business was reading the statistical reports of the churches. It is no slight ordeal for a pastor to make public announcement of the results of his labors for a year. If his figures fail to agree with former statements, or if no figures are reported under the various departments of pastoral work, he must stand a fire of questions as to the cause of failure. But this public way of presenting the account current of each church has its obvious advantages, though of necessity much time must be given to it. Both morning and afternoon sessions were given up to these reports and to the report of the doings of the island associations.

The interest of the meeting centered in the project of sending Rev. R. Maka back to his old field of labor at Butaritari in the Gilbert islands. The young missionary, who had taken his place there has lost his wife, and wishes to return to Hawaii for a brief vacation. The Catholic priests have begun their work, and the natives have not will power enough to stand out against their coercive methods of proselyting. Rev. R. Maka said in reply to a request for an immediate decision that his desire was to return, but his increasing physical weakness warned him that he was not fit for the kind of work that needed the full strength of youthful vigor. Thereupon Rev. Louis Mitchell, of Kolos, volunteered to go with his wife on this voyage of the Star if the Hawaiian Board would make provision for a young child that he could not well take with him.

Rev. Louis Mitchell married the daughter of Rev. J. Mahoe, a Hawaiian missionary to the Gilbert islands. He was obliged to return home from the effects of a gunshot wound at the hands of one of the natives.

It was voted to recommend to the Hawaiian Board to accept Rev. Louis Mitchell's offer, and send him and his wife to the field that needs at once the care of an active and devoted missionary.

Then came up the question of increasing the contributions of the churches to the treasury of the Hawaiian Board. One of the pastors showed that diligent effort to gather up small contributions, gifts of produce as well as gifts of money, would bring in a revenue that would astonish those who dispise this constant looking after little things. Another spoke of the duty of caring first for gifts to the Master's work before looking out for one's own comfort, and reproached the too common custom of the churches of taking the contributions of the first Sunday of each month for church expenses instead of consecrating these first fruits to the Lord's work of spreading Gospel truth and extending Christ's kingdom. Another advocated a vote by the church to raise a specified sum, and then devote the time and energy needed to raising the moneys as a sacred duty that would bless the giver far more than keeping back for any selfish purpose the money that might help to save another's soul. Take the dollars that might be spent on momentary enjoyment and make of them vessels of service in the temple of the Lord. Another pastor said he had noticed that the churches that were ready to make sacrifices for the welfare of others found little difficulty in raising the money needed for keeping up their own church services. A committee was appointed to determine the amount of money which the Hawaiian churches ought to contribute for foreign missions and report also ways and means for collecting the money.

HE WAS PERFECTLY SOBER.
To His Friend— I was telling papa today of your narrow escape when your dog cart ran over you, and he said that Providence took care of drunken men and fools, which was very kind of him. But I assured him that you were perfectly sober. Then he said he believed you were; and wasn't that nice in him?
